

Do you know who can access your Share?

Do you know which user has access to network shares?

Users create network shares on both - servers and PCs or laptops - to share information with other users on the network. As you network grows, it becomes increasingly difficult to find out the users that can access those network shares. The Security Add-On discovers network shares and associated access permissions. Permission reports can show you all users with their effective access permissions of those shares. Per network share reports display also all directly associated users and user groups along with their access permissions.

Your benefits at a glance:

- ready for immediate use
- tracks network shares and permissions
- documentation of shared network drives
- user and user group permissions
